

Regulations for use of Library Internet Computers

Sligo County Library endeavours to enrich the lives of individuals and to empower citizens, through supporting lifelong learning, by providing ready access to local, national and international information sources. The resources of the Library are freely available to all sectors of society. The Library supports government initiatives to develop the Information Society, to promote equality of access and the following conditions apply to usage of the Library's public Internet facilities:

1. Users must be aware that the World Wide Web is an unregulated information network, enabling access to ideas, information and images.
2. All users are required to comply with the Library's Internet usage and booking regulations. Users are required to be responsible in their use of the World Wide Web.
3. The Library reserves the right to terminate an Internet session at any time.
4. The Library cannot guarantee the accuracy of information on the World Wide Web, nor can it supervise or accept responsibility for content accessed by a user. The Library accepts no responsibility for damage, loss, costs or expenses arising either directly or indirectly from use of the Library's Internet-based computer services.
5. Users may register with any free Web-based e-mail address services. Users must, however, neither send nor receive inappropriate mail. The Library cannot accept responsibility for any communication received or sent by personal e-mail account holders.
6. Parents/guardians are obliged to take responsibility for their children's use of the Web. Children under 18 years of age must have a consent form signed by a parent/guardian.
7. The use of chat room and/or social networking facilities is not permitted.
8. Only one user is allowed at one terminal per session, sharing of terminals is not permitted.
9. All public terminals will be scanned at intervals, for inappropriate images, e.g., pornography. Special software on all public workstations in the Library will monitor any viewing or downloading of inappropriate images or sites. The Library will report the viewing of any illegal images on Library Internet facilities to the Gardaí. Extra restrictions govern children's Internet facilities in the Library.
10. Users may not:
  - create, access, copy, store, transmit, download or publish any material which:
  - Is obscene, racist, defamatory or illegal
  - May cause harassment or offence to others
  - Constitutes a breach of copyright laws or licensing agreements
11. Users may not:
  - Use the Library's workstations to gain unauthorised access to the Library's networks or computer systems or to any other network or computer system
  - Obstruct the work of others by consuming large amounts of system resources or by deliberately crashing any library computer system
  - Make any attempt to damage computer equipment or software
  - Make any attempt to alter software configurations in a malicious manner
  - Make any attempt to cause degradation of system performance
  - Use any library workstation for illegal or criminal purpose.
12. In the interest of equality and fairness and in order to ensure the effective use of library resources, users must abide by booking procedures and operational arrangements in force in Library
13. Users who wish to appeal decisions relating to the above policy and procedures should do so in writing to the County Librarian.
