SLIGO LIBRARY DEVELOPMENT PLAN 2006 - 2010

In October 2005 Sligo County Council commissioned the development of a Library Development Plan. This plan focused on two key areas, the medium to long term nature of the Plan and the physical and operational aspects of the Library's service. To reference and consult the finalised plan in PDF format please log onto www.sligococo.ie and select the link 'development plans.'

NEW SLIGO CENTRAL LIBRARY – ARCHITECTS BRIEF

Sligo County Council, in partnership with Sligo Borough Council, have proposed to develop a new Centre to include a Library Headquarters and a Central Library in Sligo City, which will serve all of the citizens of the City and County. The Centre will be a substantial building of 2660 sq. metres which will house the County Library (Administration), a Community based Central Library and a range of visitor facilities to include meeting rooms, activities areas and exhibition spaces. The purpose of this development is to provide the citizens of Sligo and visitors to the area with a modern community based library service and cultural resource while enhancing the architectural landscape of the city.

INCREASE IN OPENING HOURS

Sligo Libraries continues to increase its level of service and commitment to the public by increasing its opening hours in 2007. Opening at 9.30am, remaining open through the lunch hour and providing late openings until 8pm, on Tuesday nights in Tubbercurry Community Library and Thursday nights in Central Library, Sligo town, ensure that the public have varied options to suit their needs and lifestyles. In addition Ballymote Branch Library has increased its opening hours from 11.5 hours to 22 hours per week from December 2007.

DISABILITY ACCESS

Disabled access was a priority for Sligo Libraries in 2007. As such disabled parking, disabled toilets, ramps, induction loops and directional signage were all realised in selected branches. These infrastructural changes already complemented other facilities in situ, such as reading magnifiers at all desks and software such as JAWS and ZOOMTEXT available in all branches on selected public computers.

MULTICULTURAL POLICIES

Sligo Libraries are committed to multiculturalism and recognize the importance of the various non Irish National Communities in our society as a whole. In recognition of this we have implemented various strategies.

COLLECTION OF FOREIGN LANGUAGE TITLES

A policy of collection development aimed specifically at Foreign Language material, Adult and Juvenile, Fiction and Non-Fiction, has been ongoing throughout 2007. Material can be found in Central Library, Stephen Street and Tubbercurry Community Library, Humbert Street, Tubbercurry.

COLLECTION OF FOREIGN LANGUAGE NEWSPAPERS

Sligo Libraries provide access to electronic resources which enable non Irish nationals' access to a wide range of news media. In all five Branch Libraries readers can enjoy over 500 full content digital replicas of newspapers and magazines from 70 countries in 37 languages. To access simply type in the web address <http://library.pressdisplay.com> on any of the public access computers in the various branches.

WRITER-IN-RESIDENCE

Sligo's first writer-in-residence was appointed in September. Niall Williams, twice IMPAC-nominated author, will run a series of writing workshops and literary appreciation courses with writers, readers and library staff for a six-month term. Mr Williams has an office in the Museum building on Stephen Street and will be in Sligo every Wednesday and Thursday for consultation. For appointments please contact Niall at nwilliams@sligococo.ie

SLIGO LIBRARY BOOK CLUBS

LOCAL HISTORY COLLECTION

The Local Studies Department increased its extensive collection by taking possession of the Harbour Board Archive in 2007. The first steps in the Down Survey Mapping Project were taken when all the maps were digitised in May of this year. It is expected that all maps will be viewable on our web-site late next summer. This project will complement the already completed 1837 Ordnance Survey map collection which is available on the website www.sligolibrary.ie. Computerisation of all Local History material is ongoing with various records viewable in the aforementioned catalogue.

PLUS 2007

A major marketing survey took place in all public libraries around the country during the third week in September. The aim of the Public Library User Survey was to assess how well Sligo Library Service meets the needs of its members. Almost 1,000 PLUS questionnaires, which were available in 5 languages in order to obtain the views of as wide a range of users as possible, were issued to adult members during the week throughout the county. Sligo Central Library issued 544 questionnaires alone over the week, during the Plus 2007 survey, making it the 8th busiest library in the county in terms of adult visitor count.

STATISTICS AND EXPENDITURE

The following tables show Sligo Libraries expenditure for the fiscal year 2007 (Table 1) and how Sligo Libraries compared with the national average using the five related service indicators (Table 2).

By studying this data we find that Sligo Libraries are in 27th position nationally and 4th in comparison to the other counties in Connacht in relation to annual expenditure (Table 1). In addition we find that in four of the five service indicators, Sligo Libraries outperform the national average in the sectors outlined below (Table 2). As such by Sligo Local Authorities continuing its support for the Library Service we hope to maintain this high standard of excellence. In all five branches, on average over four and a half thousand items are borrowed each week during the year and over 600 people per week access Internet Services.
